

500 Words

Black Lives Matter

Writing Competition

We want young people to tap into their own creativity and imagination, using storytelling to share their experience and understanding of how different ethnicities interact.

To enter: Write a story of no more than 500 words OR write a poem (or both) and send your entry to Mr Elford.

A winner will be announced for each year group and will be displayed in the school.