Next Week - Week B

Self-isolating 2

A reminder that if your child is self-isolating work will be set on Teams with instructions for submission included. Work should be submitted as guided by the teacher. If your child is unable to work through illness please inform the school, through the usual method when reporting absence.

Hogan Music Visit

This week our Year 7 students were visited by professional musicians from Hogan Music and took part in an exciting workshop. They learned about careers in the music industry and listened to the musicians demonstrating their band skills. If your child would like to develop their own band skills, there is still time to sign up for our new music programme, Plug + Play in partnership with Hogan Music! See the flyer attached or Mrs Oakman for more information and sign up now at www.plugandplaymusic.com.

Associates - Aspiring Leaders and Inspirational Role Models

The Wren are so proud of recent developments across our Student Leadership Team including our Sixth Form Council, Community Reps and Student Voice. In addition, over 65 Year 8 students have been accepted as Student Associates. They will be acting as buddies and mentors for our Y7 students; Young Interpreters, Anti bullying Ambassadors, in- department support and general role models for the school at public events.

Well done to every one of you. #BetterNeverStops

Class Charts

Is your child meeting the schools expectations every day? Class charts gives parents a day to day update on this and notifies parents of any incidents that have happened. We encourage all parents to log onto class charts daily. If you don't know your class charts log in details please contact the school via email, admin@wren.excalibur.org.uk.

¡Feliz Día de Idiomas!

As the European Day of Languages is celebrated at The Wren on Monday 27th, we would like to invite our families to explore some of the resources available on the project's website: <https://edl.ecml.at/>. All of the students will be able to participate in the Secret Agent's Language Challenge by downloading the app, completing the tasks on their phone and sharing their results with Ms. Kiszka at jkiszka@wren.excalibur.org.uk or to submit their design for a T-shirt for next year's celebration.

Restart Youth

No5's Young Ambassadors are running a project called Restart Youth speaking to young people who don't access counselling at No5 with a view to finding out what services or support is needed in their communities. Young people have been disproportionately impacted by the pandemic, and they want to learn what different types of mental health support is needed to help shape No5's services as we all recover from the pandemic. Have your voice heard here.
