Next Week - Week A

Emotional Literacy Practitioner - ELP/ELSA 2

What is Emotional Literacy? It is a values-based concept concerned with all aspects of relationships. It helps you to regulate emotions, understand and analyse emotions, whilst also looking at self-awareness, self-management, and empathy.

Being able to offer the students ELP support within school gives them the skills to build resilience, understand their emotions, manage and maintain relationships, life skills and self-regulation. Mrs Bradford is our recently trained SEMH Learning Mentor is looking forward to applying the skills learnt supporting our students.

Be Respectful Putting Language in the Spotlight 3

Following our Anti Bullying week and reflection on standards across the school and in line with our school standards regarding Be Respectful, we do not tolerate the use of derogatory language or profanity at The Wren School. Any students who are found to be swearing, or using other inappropriate language including racist, homophobic, transphobic, disablist, or language that is misogynistic in its origins, will be required to attend an informative tuition session, which will explain why the use of such language is inappropriate and how it can be considered offensive.

Please support us in continuing to make sure that the Wren School is a safe, cohesive and inclusive school for all, by sharing this information with your child and discussing why such use of language is not acceptable. Please see the attached letter.
